Dear Judge Catena:

Re: June Maxam

It has been brought to our attention that you have violated Ms. June Maxam's Constitutional Rights.

Under the Supreme Law of the Land, a judge has a duty to protect the Constitutional Rights of parties before the court. Smith v. O'grady, 312 U.S. 329, 61 S.Ct. 572 (1941). The "supreme law of the land" which all courts, state and federal, must observe. Kalb v. Feuerstein, 308 U.S. 433, 60 S.Ct. 343, 346 (1940).

It has been held that the Constitution is the supreme law of the land, and 'Upon the state courts, equally with the courts of the Union, rests the obligation to guard and enforce every right secured by that Constitution.' Smith v. O'grady, 312 U.S. 329, 61 S.Ct. 572 (1941).

"No state legislator or executive or judicial officer can war against the Constitution without violating his undertaking to support it." Cooper v. Aaron, 358 U.S. 1, 78 S.Ct. 1401 (1958).

Should a judge engaged in any act that gives the appearance of partiality, the judge has engaged in a violation of the First Amendment, an act which deprives the judge of jurisdiction, for he no longer is acting as a judicial officer, but is acting only "in his person". Scheuer v. Rhodes.

It is not a judicial function to attack the U.S. Constitution, to war against the U.S. Constitution, to violate a person's Constitutional Rights, to fail to follow the Constitution, or to stomp on the U.S. Constitution. No judge has lawful authority to do so. Should any person who claims to be a judge do so, then that person has deprived himself/herself of having any judicial authority, has no immunity, and is acting only in his or her person. Scheuer v. Rhodes, In re Ayers, In re Young.

Should I, or any person, anywhere, be damaged in any manner by your actions relative to June Maxam, which are in violation of the Supreme Law of the Land, then I, and any person, anywhere, can bring an action for damages personally against you, wherever we are located, and since you are without immunity, you have to defend those charges personally.

We hope you will review your actions in violation of the Supreme Law of the Land against Ms. June Maxam and comply with the Law.

Yours truly,

Citizens for Legal Responsibility
